

Organizational Structure

Each year, extensive organization and planning is required at all levels to ensure the success of this unique and enjoyable learning experience. All organizational levels of the Envirothon program must work together to promote the program, raise funds to cover program expenses, organize and conduct Envirothon competitions, and recruit advisors and teams to participate in the program.

The following breakdown of organizational structure and responsibilities may help you understand how the Envirothon program is made possible.